AGNEW TECH-II AWARDED CONTRACT TO TRANSLATE FOR MIDDLE EAST ENTREPRENEUR TRAINING PROGRAM

WESTLAKE VILLAGE, CALIF.—Helping to develop a new base of business leaders in the Middle East and North Africa, national translation service Agnew Tech-II will coordinate and produce the multilingual support services for the Middle East Entrepreneur Training Program in the United States (MEET U.S.) that will take place from Nov. 29 through Dec. 10 in San Diego, Calif.

Selected by the Beyster Institute at the Rady School, UC San Diego, developer and manager of the MEET U.S. program, Agnew Tech-II will be responsible for simultaneous interpreters, equipment and translation of all program materials in both Arabic and French, for 35 participants from 15 countries across the Middle East and North Africa.

“It is an honor to be a part of this important effort to promote economic growth and better communication with the Middle East and North Africa,” says Irene Agnew, Agnew Tech-II founder and president.

This 10-day executive business seminar, the first in a series of programs funded by a grant from the United States Department of State, Middle East Partnership Initiative, includes internships, networking opportunities and advanced business training featuring U.S. entrepreneurship experts.

The Beyster Institute’s search for translation services was narrowed quickly with the need for a service that could translate into Arabic and French, both on paper and simultaneously as the seminar participants were speaking.
